VOL. XV. No. 2705 HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1904 PRICE 5 CENTS

Calm and Confident Says Kaneko Is His Government

"Japan did not want to have war with Russia. She did everything in her power to avert it through diplomatic channels and was simply forced into it by Russia."

This was the statement made by Baron Kaneko to a Bulletin reporter this morning. [The Baron, who arrived here from Japan in the Siberia, is a very prominent man in Japan. He has twice been a Minister in Marquis Ito's Cabinet and, although he is at present holds no portfolio, he is still a man of great influence in the Mikado's realm.]

When asked about his plans and his mission, Baron Kaneko pointed out that he was traveling absolutely in an unofficial capacity.

"While I was twice a Minister in Marquis Ito's Ministry, once of Justice and once of Agriculture and Commerce, I am not holding any official position now," said the Baron. "It is my intention to make a stay in the States. I will visit New York, Washington and other large cities but intend to have my headquarters in St. Louis. I am very much interested in the exposition and intend to devote much time in looking after Japan's exhibits there. My principal aim, however, to promote the commerce between my own country and the Southern States in connection with the Exposition. Eastern fairs and expositions have done much towards developing commercial relations between Japan and the Atlantic Coast States. The Chicago World's Fair gave the trade between my country and the Northern States a great impetus. It is my intention to endeavor to have the St. Louis Exposition work in the same manner towards developing trade between the Southern States and Japan. To accomplish this purpose I shall travel extensively in the South during my stay."

"I intend to be in St. Louis especially at the time of the awarding of the prizes. As this, I understand, will take place in the fall, I expect that my stay will be about six months. I may make a tour around the world in returning, but may, however, possibly come back by this same route."

When questioned about the war, the Baron made the statement quoted above, but had little to say beyond it. The Government people were, he said, calm and confident.

With Baron Kaneko is Mr. Takahashi, president of the Bank of Japan, and one of the most prominent financiers of that country. Mr. Takahashi will go with Baron Kaneko as far as New York. He will remain there a short time and will then continue on his way to London, which is the main point of his trip. Mr. Takahashi's secretary stated that while no absolutely

BRECKONS' FREE PEN NOT DAVIS' BUSINESS WHAT HE TELLS KNOX

JUDGE DOLE WILL FURTHER
LOOK INTO ALLEGED WRONG-
STATEMENT IN A BRIEF.

"I rise to say right here that Mr. Davis cannot say nor can this court order what I shall or what I shall not include in my communications to the United States Attorney General. I will say to Mr. Davis that it is none of his business what I write to my superior."

So said United States District Attorney Breckons in Federal Court before Judge Dole this morning when Attorney Geo. A. Davis wanted to argue in regard to a motion that Breckons be ordered to amend his brief in the disbarment proceedings, Davis alleging that the District Attorney had included a false statement.

Davis stated that Breckons had sent on his statement of facts to Washington. Breckons said it was none of Davis' business what he sent on to Washington.

Judge Dole stated that, as a whole, Breckons' brief did not convey the idea Davis seemed to believe; of course if parts were cut out and criticized, statements separated, might appear untrue; Davis had made practically the same statement in his brief in regard to the ownership of the reef property that Breckons made in his statement of facts.

"However," said Judge Dole, "I will look further into the matter."

Following is the affidavit filed by Davis today:

I, George A. Davis, counselor at law, make oath and say:

1. That I am the respondent in this matter.

2. That the District Attorney filed a statement of facts on behalf of the United States with the Judge of this Court wherein it is stated that I am and appears "That at the time of the institution of the suit in equity, entitled, Maria S. Davis, next friend of John K. Sumner, vs. John K. Sumner, The Bishop of Panapolis, trustee, et al., and the guardianship proceedings instituted in the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit, Territory of Hawaii, and at chambers before a judge of the said last mentioned court, John K. Sumner was the sole and absolute owner of the harbor front property and neither Maria S. Davis, nor any other person had any interest therein;" which said statement is not in accordance with the uncorroborated evidence and the record; that the record and evidence shows beyond dispute or doubt that at said time the Right Rev. Gulstan F. Roper, Roman Catholic Bishop of Panapolis, owned and had the absolute control of the said property under and by virtue of a deed of trust, and was about to sell the said property to the Oahu Railway & Land Company for $100,000, and had agreed as such trustee to divide the proceeds thereof, to-wit: the sum of $100,000 as follows: $25,000 to the Roman Catholic Church, $50,000 to the Ellises, and $25,000 to John K. Sumner.

3. That said District Attorney served me with a copy of said statement and said he was going to send a copy thereof to the Attorney General of the United States.

4. That said statement is not in accordance with the facts disclosed by (Continued on Page 4.)

ADVANCE ON MANCHURIA

WAR CORRESPONDENTS In Japan SECURELY BOTTLED UP

G. L. Brownell, author of "The Heart of Japan," which was issued about a year ago and which has been the subject of much favorable comment in both England and America, is a through passenger in the Siberia, bound for San Francisco. He is a great friend of Fred J. Church, manager of the Waiwale Hotel, having become acquainted as opposing center rushes on the Seattle and Tacoma football teams some years ago. Mr. Church playing on the former team. In a conversation with a Bulletin representative this afternoon, Mr. Brownell had the following to say about affairs in Japan:

"I believe that you people in America really know more about the war than we who have just come from Japan. The Japanese Government certainly know their business. They are most secretive and say nothing in response to questions asked of them. Perhaps it is not generally known that all the war correspondents who have gone to Japan for the purpose of reporting the war are 'bottled up,' as it were, in Tokyo and that each one is closely watched. The Government does not intend to take any chances of having their places divulged. Naturally they are chafing to get away but they cannot. Korea is the destination they are naturally aiming for but the Japanese Government has put its foot down on any proposition of the kind. They must go to Nagasaki and Yokohama and other places in Japan, but they are never out of sight of the secret agents of the Government. There is no telling when they will be able to get away. They have bought all the necessities incident to a campaign in Japan, but they will not be able to use any of them."

"I notice that it has been stated in the papers that Jack London was arrested for taking photographs. This is not a fact. London was arrested while he was about to take passage surreptitiously to sail for Korea from Japan on a small steamer. The Japanese are keeping particular watch on him. I never in my life saw such patriotism as that which exists in Japan. Everybody wants to fight and thousands of women have applied to the Government to sail for Korea. The men and women both are killing and anxious to work for the Government for nothing."

Mr. Brownell knows what he is talking about for he has been in Japan off and on for the last twenty years, gathering material for books. He has written a number of books, but his masterpiece is the book which has already been mentioned. He is very sorry he did not make arrangements to remain over at this port but in order to make up for deficiencies, he has promised to advertise the Haleiwa Hotel on every hand.

KINDERGARTEN WORK REPORTED ON TODAY

In the pleasant parlor of the Young Women's Christian Association this morning the Board of Supervisors of the Free Kindergarten Association held its monthly meeting, the first vice president, Mrs. W. F. Allen, in the chair.

The regular routine of business revealed good progress in the kindergartens, in spite of the tempestuous weather of the past month, which considerably lowered the average of attendance and the standard of health.

While there is a surplus in the treasury in starting on the new month, those bearing the responsibility of collections have found their tasks very arduous since a number of regular
